

The Political Thought of Neo-traditionalism: Case Study of Seyyed Hossein Nasr

*Hossein Monsef

Received Date: 2021/08/07 - Accepted Date: 2021/10/09

Abstract

This treatise has been formed with the aim of detection, recognition and inference the new political thought of Neo-Traditionalism and its leading thinker, Seyyed Hossein Nasr. Since their texts do not show clear definitions of political issues and the desired political system, and due to an urgent need for societies, especially Islamic societies to have an efficient, Islamic and popular political system, it was necessary to discover and extract their desired thought and political system From the texts, books, articles and writings of the traditionalists and the Neo-Traditionalism. Thus, it examines the intellectual and historical background of this school, Explanation the generalities of Neo-Traditionalism thought, the reasons for its separation from traditionalism, recognition the main components, elements and factors of its expansion in the past few decades and the recognition of political thought of Seyyed Hossein Nasr .

In this way on the one hand, the re-reading of Nasr's thought in the defined framework has led to the reconstruction of his thinking, analysis and assessment of votes in the light of the past and present and on the other hand it has reached his desired political thought and political system. We have extracted it from the texts and books from our hearts.

Keywords: Political Thought; Political System; Traditionalism; Neo-Traditionalism; Seyyed Hossein Nasr.

* M.A.in Political Thought in Islam, Allameh Tabataba'i University, Tehran, Iran.
Email: h.monsef@atu.ac.ir